Local Artists Featured in Show at Cornell Cooperative Extension of Ulster County

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Ulster County is pleased to announce that it is currently hosting an art show featuring the work of four local artists, Jason Miranda, Jude DeFalco, Jean Haines and M.G. Wells. The display showcases works in a wide range of medias including: acrylic, oil, ink, watercolor, and Giclee prints. The public is invited to stop by and browse the walls during business hours from 8:30 am to 5 pm. Cornell Cooperative Extension of Ulster County is located at 10 Westbrook Lane, Kingston. All works are available for purchase. According to Executive Director, Lydia Reidy, "When approached with this idea, I thought it was terrific! We have lots of wall space that had nothing on it. With Ulster County Tourism in our building and people constantly seeking information on subjects that range from garden and lawn care to 4-H activities to nutrition, we get lots of folks stopping in on a daily basis. We're delighted to give local artists and opportunity to hang their work in our building so that it can be viewed." The exhibit runs through March 2003. For information, contact Lydia Reidy or Roxanne Churchill at 845-340-3990.
