4-H ATV SAFETY COURSE ROLLS INTO CANTINE FIELD IN SAUGERTIES

Informative course teaches youth safe riding practices

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Ulster County 4-H Youth Development Program will offer youth and parents the opportunity to learn more about all terrain vehicles (ATV) safety thanks to a grant awarded by National 4-H Council as part of the 4-H ATV Safety Grant Program, a collaboration among local 4-H Programs, the national 4-H Youth Development Program and the ATV Safety Institute (ASI).

The courses will take place at Cantine Field in Saugerties beginning on Monday, November 26 through Thursday, November 29 from 3:00pm 5:00pm and Friday November 30, from 3:00pm 6:00pm. Registration is based on a first come, first served basis. Pre-registration is encouraged as space is limited. The fee is $10 for all. Youth ages 10 17.

You can request a registration form by contacting Patti Zellmer at Cornell Cooperative Extension of Ulster County at 845-340-3990, Jorge Castagnola at 845-246-9800 or Jeremy Rushkoski at 247-6573. This ATV Safety course is in cooperation with CCEUC, 4-H ATV Safety Grant Program, Saugerties Police Department, Local ATV Dealers, and SAGE

4-H ATV Safety helps build awareness for safe riding practices as the popularity of all-terrain vehicles continues to rise in the United States. The program brings awareness to kids and parents about the risks of riding an ATV and how to avoid injury by wearing the proper safety gear, determining safer places to ride, and making sure the ATV is the proper size for its rider.

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Ulster County 4-H Youth Development Program Team Coordinator Patti Zellmer can be contacted at 845-340-3990 or email: psz2@cornell.edu for more information. A registration form can be downloaded at <http://counties.cce.cornell.edu/ulster>
