Farm Safety Class to Promote Safe and Healthy Farming Practices for Farm Families, Employees and Visitors

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Orange County presents Farm Safety Isn't Just for Farmers It's also for our families, employees and visitors! On Tuesday, November 27 at Willow Hill Farm at 611-641 Route 211 in Montgomery, NY from 11:00am to 2:00pm.

The guest speaker will be Dave Tetor, Farm Safety Specialist with New York Center for Agriculture Medicine and Health (NYCAMH). Topics to be discussed are Power Take-Off (PTO) Safety, accident prevention, proper use of safety signs, general farm safety rules and recognizing unsafe equipment condition. Participants will learn how to execute a farm safety survey which they will be able to perform at their home farm in order to make their operating facility safer for their family members, farm workers as well as visitors.

The class fee is $12 and will include a box lunch. Pre-registration is required by November, 21. To register call Cornell Cooperative Extension of Orange County at 845-344-1234 or email cah94@cornell.edu
