Don't Miss the 10th Annual Great Plant Swap and Sale Coming in June

As you get your garden ready for spring this year, don't forget to put aside some plants for the 10th Annual Cornell Cooperative Extension of Ulster County Master Gardeners Great Plant Swap and Sale taking place Saturday, June 7 in the pavilion near the Forsythe Nature Center at Forsythe Park located on Lucas Avenue in Kingston. Plants to swap can be dropped off on Saturday morning between 9:00am and 10:00am. Swappers will receive vouchers for the number of plants they drop off. And then return at 11:00am to swap vouchers for plants! At 11:30 the swap will open to the public for sale. Plants must be labeled by name and color of flower, in pots, well cared for, healthy and not on the New York State list of Invasive plants. Master Gardeners will refuse any plants not meeting these criteria.

Master Gardener volunteers will also be answering gardening questions and have lots of gardening information available. So, pot up your divisions or extra plants a few weeks before the swap date, label them, and bring them to exchange for vouchers.

For more information please call Dona Crawford at 340-3990 or visit our website at <http://counties.cce.cornell.edu/ulster>. No early birds please.
