Greenhouse Management Seminar for Organic and Conventional Growers Comes to Middletown

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Orange and Ulster Counties is hosting a Greenhouse Management Program for vegetable crop and transplant production on Wednesday, November 19, at the Orange County Extension office located at 18 Seward Avenue, 3rd Floor Conference Room in Middletown from 9:00am to 4:00pm.

The program will cover topics such as: nutrient management for crop performance, greenhouse fruits and vegetables physiological and reproductive needs, insects, controlling INSV and other common diseases, sanitizing your greenhouse while preparing for new crops, calculating prices for profits, and customer service.

The fee is $30 per person for current CCE Ag enrollees, $40 for non Ag enrollees. Those pre-registered by Monday, November 17 will receive a discounted price. Registration at the door will be $50 for all. Pre-registration is encouraged as seating is limited for this program. Pesticide recertification credits have been applied for.

For more information call Maire Ullrich or Rose Baglia at 845-344-1234 or Teresa Rusinek at 845-340-3990. To pre-register for this seminar call Cathy at 845-344-1234.
